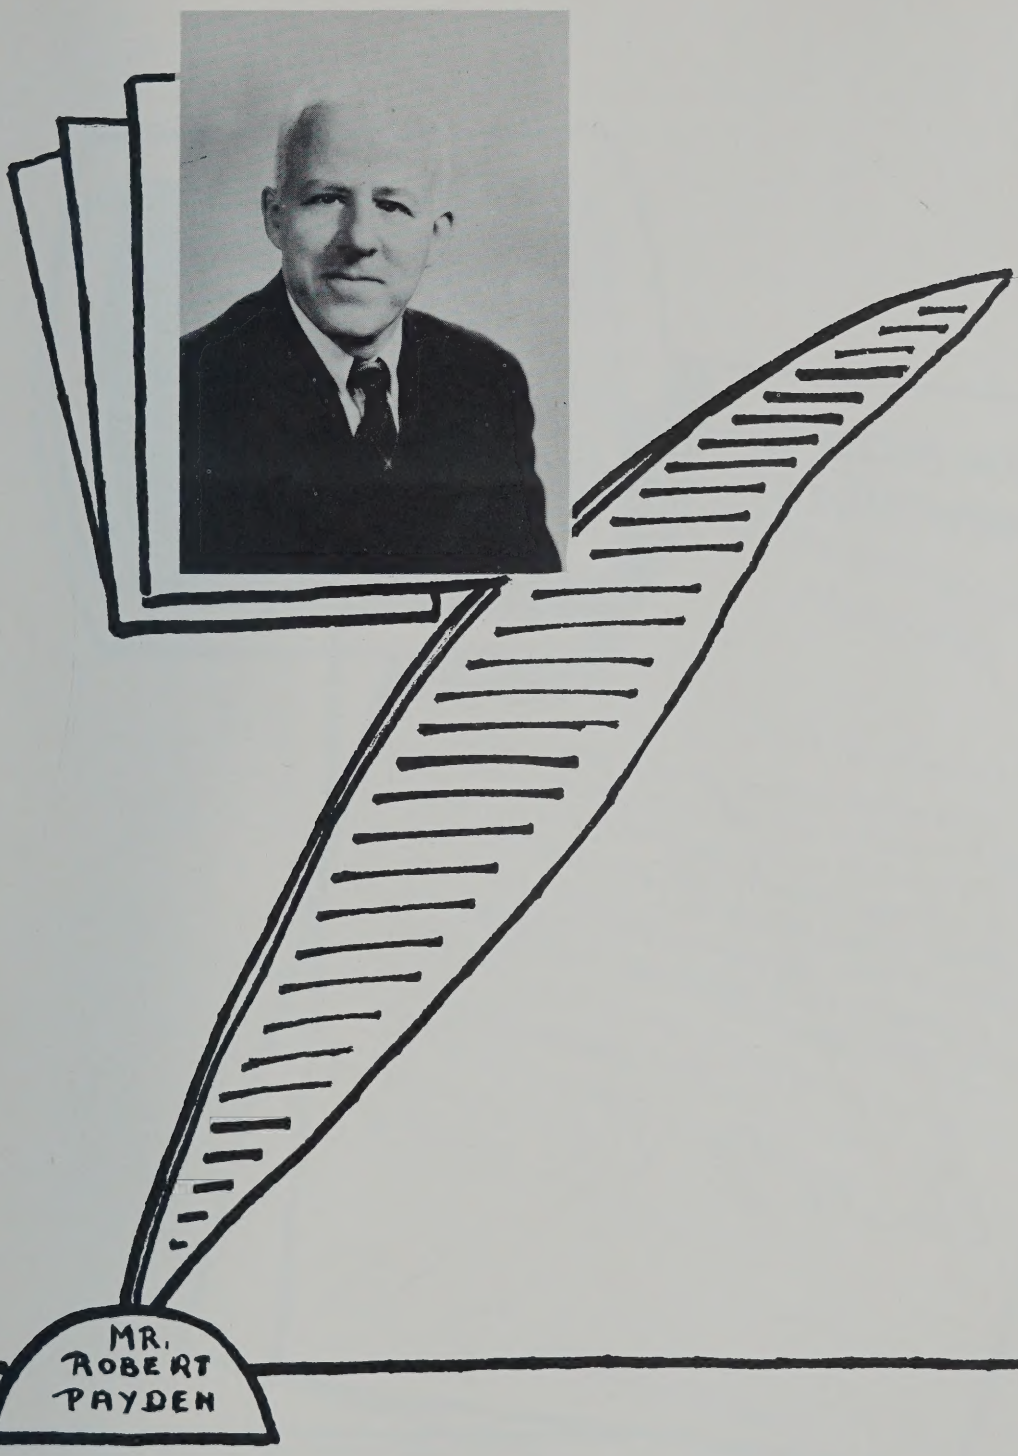
DEDICATION



In Appreciation

N. L. O.

MESSAGE FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT

To the Graduates of 1957:

My sincere best wishes go with each graduate. I hope that each of you will find a worthwhile occupation in which to earn your living. At the same time it is more important that you carry the ideal of service to your fellow man in your hearts regardless of your occupation. With this ideal you will necessarily speak with truth, fight for justice, and recognize God.

Superintendent of Schools

Gerald N. Anderson

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

The success of an individual is determined by many factors. The successful and happy individual is one who is primarily interested in the contribution he can make to the society in which he lives. Let us read Longfellow's poem, "Psalm of Life," and strive to leave behind us, "footsteps in the sands of time."

Good luck to all of you.

PIGSKIN PARADE

The 1957 Hornets produced the first winning football season since we entered high school in 1953. After losing our first three games to Somerset, Franklin, and North Easton the Gridsters under new head coach Bill Parsons suddenly found themselves. By turning out one of the most powerful offenses seen in many a year Mansfield won five out of the next six games including the upset of previously undefeated Case, the crushing of arch-rival North Attleboro, and last, but not least, the annual Turkey Day Classic over Foxboro.

Tribute is due to all members of the '57 team but here I would like to have the seniors who played their final year at M. H. S.

DOUBLE DRIBBLES

The 56-57 edition of the M. H. S. basketball team did surprisingly well considering pre-season expectations. After a slow start the basketeers captured third place in the Hockomoch League standings and advanced to the semi-finals of the Bay State Tournament before finally succumbing to powerful Sharon. For the second consecutive year the Hornets broke the team scoring record for a season by amassing 1260 points.

Two individual scoring records were also broken during the season. John Pomfret's 445 points broke Wilbur Johnson's thirty-five year old record of 352. Geoff Stearns, sophomore center, became the highest scoring "soph" by pouring in 202 points. Not to be neglected is the moving into the Top Ten All-Time Scorers by senior John Todesco (239). Also over the hundred mark were Wally Bartlett (125), Roy Bolin (103), and Johnny Antosca (103).

CLASS HISTORY

By MAUREEN MAXWELL

In September, 1953, we, the class of '57, bravely entered our classrooms to begin our High School curriculum.

With the help of our class advisors, Miss Henchel and Miss Darmedy, we elected our class officers. John Todesco was elected President; John Pomfret, Vice President; Maureen Maxwell, Secretary; Dawn Bliss, Treasurer. As we were well satisfied with the class officers, they remained the same all through our four years. Shortly after school began we held our first dance which helped to establish our treasury.

Our class was ably represented in boys' sports by Nicholas Ball, Wallace Bartlett, Herbert Baptiste, Weston Bartlett, Roy Bolin, Vincent Brown, Kenneth Cahill, Edward Carl, Ralph DiChiara, Arthur Goodwin, John Kaleta, David Knowles, John Pomfret, Alan Selmanoff, Edward Sheehy, Ronald Titus and John Todesco.

In girls' basketball our honor was upheld by Judith Briggs, Pauline Delfino, Nancy Ockert, and the only girl to become a cheerleader this year, Janet Velletri.

It seemed that no sooner had we become Freshmen than it was time for us to gain our new title of "Gay Young Sophomores."

September, 1954, came very quickly, and with great pride and joy we, as Sophomores, entered the portals of our modern new High School. In one big turmoil we wandered through the seeming miles of corridors looking for our various classes.

Mr. Guiliani became another of our class advisors.

Charles Dale, Douglas Rathbun and Katherine Paine were added to our previous list of athletes. Two more girls made the cheerleading squad this year, Ida DePalma and Maureen Maxwell.

At one of the season's first pep rallies our class won the cheering contest, thus earning the title of the "Loudmouths of MHS."

Almost immediately we chose committees for our April and May dances. Both turned out to be great successes socially and financially.

With the excitement of selecting our class rings, Graduation, and the Reception our Sophomore year came to an end.

In September, 1955, we returned to Mansfield High School as confident Juniors. With great anticipation we awaited the arrival of our rings.

This year for class advisors we had Miss Henchel, Miss Darmedy, and Mr. Sullivan.

With determination our class began the unrelenting task of raising funds toward one ultimate goal—graduation. To achieve this we planned such projects as our Food Sale, Doughnut Drive, and three dances, all of which were very prosperous.

In addition to the other athletes of our class, James Eastman joined the football squad.

Elected to represent MHS at Girls' State were Maureen Maxwell, representative, and Katherine Paine, alternate. Michael Martin and John Pomfret, representative and alternate respectively, represented the boys.

Loring Studio was selected as our class photographer.

The annual event, the Senior Reception, was undertaken with great enthusiasm. The work done by the decorating committee, Nancy Ockert and John Fernandes, was greatly appreciated on Prom night.

In June, upon the completion of another year, we looked forward to our Senior year with eagerness.

In September, 1956, we knew, at last, the proud feeling of walking down the corridors of the High School as triumphant Seniors. This year we were under the supervision of Miss Henchel and Mr. Sullivan.

Among our social events of the year we held our traditional "Welcome Freshmen Dance," and also a "Thanksgiving Dance," "Sweater Swish," "Hobo Hop," and "Spaghetti Supper."

We were very happy to receive our class pictures that arrived just in time for Christmas.

Early in February try-outs for the class play, "Ring Around Elizabeth," were held under the direction of Mr. DeCourcy. Characters were portrayed as follows: "Elizabeth," Ida DePalma; "Ralph," James Eastman; "Jennifer," Janet Velletri; "Andy," Weston Bartlett; "Lorette," Nancy Pitman; "Mercedes," Elizabeth Wrona; "Hubert," Edward Carl; "Vida," Judy Briggs; "Harriet," Mary Pedini; "Dr. Hollister," Gordon Ennis. The cast was well rewarded for their overwhelming performance by an inspired audience.

Another important production of our Senior year was the publishing of our yearbook with Mr. Payden as our advisor. Rita DeClemente and Michael Martin were named co-editors. Judith Goyea was elected as the business manager.

At a Class Meeting Mr. Mushroe announced the honors for Graduation and Class Day as follows: Rita DeClemente, Judith Goyea, Nicholas Ball, John Pomfret, the Class Essayists; Louise Mei, Katherine Paine, the Class Will; Michael Martin, the Class Prophecy; and Maureen Maxwell, the Class History.

John Pomfret, one of our outstanding athletes, broke the all-time record this year which was held for thirty-five years by Wilbur Johnson. As top-scorer of MHS, his basketball record is now 377, however, he no doubt will increase it in the Bay State Tournament.

Many other honors were received during the year. John Todesco, David Knowles, John Pomfret, and Michael Martin were selected as Junior Rotarians. Katherine Paine was chosen for the D.A.R. Rita DeClemente and Judith Goyea were chosen as honorary members of the New Century Club. To represent MHS on Good Government Day Weston Bartlett was selected as representative with John Pomfret as his alternate.

We chose for our class colors orchid and white; flower, orchid; and our class motto is "Out of School's Life into Life's School."

Our last days flew by filled with studies, but we still had time for the traditional "Tramp Day" and "Bow Day" which gave us many laughs.

Commencement exercises were held on the following dates: Baccalaureate Sunday, June 9; Class Day, June 10; Graduation Exercises, June 11; and the Senior Reception, June 14.

Although June 15 brings to a close the history of the Class of 1957, it leaves us with a treasure of many happy memories and marks the beginning of a new life for us all.

CLASS WILL

By LOUISE MEI and KATHERINE PAINE

We, the class of 1957, leave to the underclassmen our various idiosyncrasies and odd mannerisms. Being of sound mind, we have decided to leave quickly to prevent the danger of becoming Indian givers.

To Mr. Anderson we leave the thought, "'all work and no play' makes MHS passe'."

To Mr. Mushroe and Mr. Qualters we dedicate our favorite song, "Happy Birthday!"

To the faculty we leave our hopes that someday they will have a full lunch period.

To the Juniors we leave all the Senior privileges—if you don't abuse them.

To the Sophomores we leave our hopes that they get a standard ring.

To the Freshmen we leave our hopes that they might get a class trip.

Nicky Ball leaves his little red car to the Fisher-Richardson House in view of historical interest.

Eddy Sheehy leaves to try and convince Mr. Ripley, believe it or not.

Dawn Bliss leaves taking with her that well known phrase, "Does anybody have his class dues?"

Charlie Dale leaves with a "mine" full of ideas for improving the Navy.

Judy Anderson leaves her carefree ways to Maryann "Efficiency Expert" Langdon.

Pat Chandler wills her mischief making ability to that "little ole troublemaker," Edith Alfieri.

Mike Martin leaves his immaculate appearance to Donald "Spotless" Spence.

Vinnie Brown leaves his theme, "Why hurry, I have a lifetime ahead of me."

Judy Briggs leaves her sports ability to "Coach" Marilyn Codding.

John "Comrade" Kaleta leaves to take his place in the Russian Army with Jim Eastman's letter of introduction. In no time John will probably be Russia's Lord High Executioner.

Arthur Goodwin leaves his success for coffee-break routines to the envious teachers.

Barbara DePalma leaves her duck tail haircut to Lee Parham.

Pauline Delfino leaves her job as Colorguard Captain to Mary Ann Martin, who will fill the bill.

Paul Copparini wills his title of "Statie" to Will Slattery, who also covers a lot of territory.

Florence Francis leaves her C.A.P. uniform to Leslie Balch.

John Fernandes leaves to join the Mickey Staff of Walt Disney Studios. Johnny gained his ability by doing portraits.

Nancy Ockert leaves her basketball ability to Natalie Brown.

Warren Morse leaves his fondness for "dear" hunting to John Falcone, who is also good at the sport.

Charles Farling leaves for Virginia where he is sure to win his arguments.

Doug Rathbun leaves Judy Dean in the care of the underclassmen.

Bobbie Scarpellini leaves her schoolbooks in exchange for cook books.

Nancy Maloon leaves quoting, "Brud is the staff of life."

Ronald Titus leaves his devotion for Miss Milot to Louis Garland.

Jean Mathews leaves her height to Nancy Prescott.

Bob Morrison leaves his accident-free record to Leon Grant with hopes that it will be always be free.

Mary Carine leaves Bill LeClair to the waiting Sophomore girls.

Joe Vicino leaves his respect for authority to Jimmy Card.

Rita DeClemente leaves her list of addresses to any girl who can keep more than one boy interested.

Herbie "Casanova" Baptiste leaves his brother to carry on the family tradition of being MHS's biggest wolf.

Joyce Davidson leaves her talent for throwing successful parties to Joan Streeter.

Alan Selmanoff leaves his five-year Esquire subscription to the school library.

Bill "E. B." Sheehan leaves his enthusiasm for the ministry to any religious soul. Remember, E.B., practice what you preach.

Judy Goyea leaves a bottle of aspirins to next year's Business Manager.

Roy Bolin leaves his love for fruit, especially "dates," to his brother Richie.

Lee "Hot Rod" Kingsbury leaves the inside track on Church Street to Karl Clemmey.

Carol Houghton leaves her thrilling, exciting work at Woolworth's to any energetic soul.

Nancy Reed leaves with the thought, "Diamonds are a girl's best friend."

Ida DePalma leaves her Ipana smile to Carmen Bishop, who will put it to good use.

Bernard Devine leaves his quiet, unassuming manner to Fred Wills.

Ralph DiChiara leaves his collection of silk shirts to Jimmy Goddard.

Bev Briggs leaves her little green Ford to next year's Drivers' Ed. Classes, nothing much worse can happen to it anyhow.

Janet Shepardson leaves tape recordings of her favorite works to Mr. Gallo for use during Music Depreciation Week.

George "Chop Chop" Francis leaves his bicycle to Elaine Pasquerillo, in hopes that she can improve on his record.

Bruce Beutell leaves his sly grin to George Clayton Upper, Jr., who has one of his own.

Rosalie Todesco leaves to gain her MRS. title.

Mac "Monstrous" Leonard leaves his winning ways with the girls to Mike Reagan.

Maureen Maxwell leaves her magnetic personality and sociability to Honey Tessier.

Mary Pedini leaves her ladylike manners and dainty ways to Margaret Gulan.

Gordon Ennis leaves to take a course in Advanced Spelling at Harvard. He perfected this art in Miss Hannon's English class.

Eddy Carl leaves his he-man physique to Bart Jackson.

Fran Chaves leaves to go "Buck" hunting.

Joan McRae leaves her quiet manners and theme, "Silence is Golden," to Sandra "Chatterbox" Shea.

Wally Bartlett leaves his square dancing ability to Coach Parsons with his fervent wishes that next year's class will enjoy square dancing as much as he did.

Geri Garriepy leaves Mr. Payden the quotation, "Never underestimate the powers of a woman."

Betty "Fitz" Wrona leaves her talkative manner to that well known conversationalist, Jean Gulan.

Johnny Pomfret leaves his modest and unassuming manner to Tony Day.

Claire Annese leaves professional advice on handling Junior boys to Doreen Albertini.

Kenny Cahill leaves his astounding scholastic record to Julianna Kane, who will soon catch up to him.

Arlene "Speedy" Lonergan leaves her front seat in English class to Tino DiGiovanni, another of Miss Hannon's "darlings."

Jim Eastman leaves his skill at playing cards to Bill Harlor.

Judy Lovely leaves her sports enthusiasm to Judy Santucci, who's been cheering for years.

John Todesco leaves with the advice: "Four presidential terms are enough."

Wes Bartlett leaves his illuminated halo to John Antosca, hoping that he will see the light and get around as much as Wes did.

Janet Velletri would leave her glasses, but she can't see without them.

David Knowles leaves his breathtaking experiences during Biology trips to anyone who is man enough to try them.

Albert Viscardi leaves his he-man physique to Bobby Beldini.

As for us, we leave before our classmates decide to tear us limb from limb.

CLASS PROPHECY OF 1957

By MICHAEL MARTIN

The time is 1968, and after my many years of dreaming about a trip to the Hawaiian Islands, this dream is about to become a reality. The taxi that is to take me to the station has just pulled up in front of the house, and as I step into it I see the smiling face of Paul Copparini. Paul is doing very well since he now owns the only taxi company in Mansfield. As we drove down Main Street I noticed the office of Todesco and Carl. It seems that John Todesco and Edward Carl have combined their fathers' companies so that one builds the oil burners and the other keeps them supplied. I also noticed DeClemente's Hat Shop, run by the very capable Madam Rita. Just as we neared the station I spotted three women pushing baby carriages. I quickly recognized them as Roberta Scarpellini, Geraldine Garriepy, and Rosalie Todesco. It seems that they now have nine children among them.

As I stepped inside of the station I said hello to station master Ron Titus and sat down to await my train. My eyes quickly fell on the beautiful legs of the country's most successful model, Ida DePalma, who was waiting for the train to Boston. In the course of our conversation I learned that Barbara DePalma was happily married and that Ida's boss, of all people, was James Eastman, head of a very successful model agency. We both laughed when I happened to mention that Jim always had quite an eye for curves. Finally my train to Providence arrived, so I bid Ida goodbye and climbed aboard.

On the train I glanced through a magazine and spotted two articles which seemed very interesting. The first was called, "Why I Defend High School Bands" by Katherine Paine and the second, "What's Buzzing in Hollywood" by Beverly (Call me nosy) Briggs. As the conductor came towards me I noticed that it was Bruce Beutell. When I asked him whether or not my tickets were in order, I wasn't too surprised when he answered, "yup." On my way to the smoking car I happened to see a poster on the wall which was advertising the new TV comedy show, "Laugh With Warren Morse." The title of the show struck me as very funny since that was all we did during our last four years of school with Warren. The poster also stated that the writers of this comedy show were Judith Anderson and Pat Chandler. When I entered the smoking car, I noticed a man surrounded by reporters. It was none other than Senator Herbert Baptiste, the greatest orator in Washington. One of the reporters, Ralph DiChiara, was in the process of asking him to whom he owed his success. I was quite surprised when he answered, "I owe everything to my efficient secretary, Miss Claire Annese." Just then his barber, Robert Morrison, and his manicurist, Carol Houghton, arrived and the news conference came to an end.

Soon my train arrived in Providence Station and I went directly to Information to ask on what track my train to New York was. The sign on the desk read Miss Joyce Davidson. She quickly told me on track 2 and I went immediately to my train. As I sat down I glanced across the aisle and saw Mary Lou Pedini. She told me that she was now married and lived in New York but was just returning from visiting an old friend, Jean Mathews, who was married to her childhood sweetheart. As the time passed on we found ourselves talking about our school days and our classmates. Mary Lou mentioned that Fran Chaves owned a large theater in New York, headlined by that well known strongman, Albert (I let people tie me up) Viscardi. I asked her if she had heard anything from her old school chum Judy Briggs, and she told me that Judy was in Paris vacationing with her third husband. The name of Betty Wrona came up and Mary Lou said that she was now working for the Voice of America. She went on to say that the Russians are going haywire since it is one voice they can't shut out. I decided that it was about time I did a little talking, so I told her that three of our classmates were doing very well in Mansfield. Joan McRae is the town Librarian and Arthur Goodwin and Lee Kingsbury are partners in a garage. Lee wrecks the cars and Arthur fixes them. Before we knew it the train pulled into Grand Central Station. As I was getting my luggage I happened to notice two men in Navy officers' uniforms. Sure enough, it was Charles Dale and John Mahoney. The uniforms sure did something for them judging by the admiring girls surrounding them.

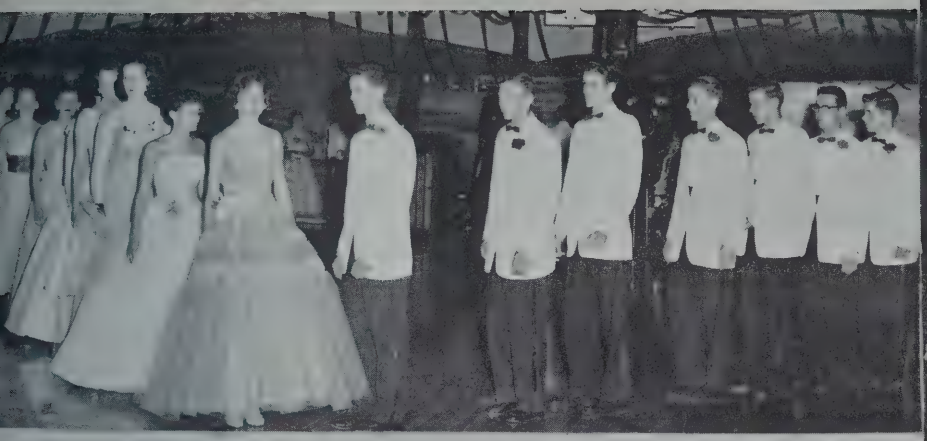
I decided to walk down Broadway and as I did I quickly saw a theater advertising that sensational movie, "Gentlemen Prefer Redheads" starring Dawn Bliss and Wes Bartlett. Further on down the street I passed Selmanoff Studios run by that expert photographer, Alan Selmanoff. Two of his prettiest subjects, Maureen Maxwell and Janet Velletri, were just now entering his studios. Since it was getting close to dinner I asked a policeman, Douglas Rathbun, if there was any place around where I could get a good meal. He wholeheartedly recommended Chop's Place, owned by George Francis, which was just around the corner. The dinner was very good and when I later talked to George, I learned that his sister Florence was doing very well as a secretary in one of New York's largest offices.

The next two days were spent sightseeing. I visited New York's Museum of Art, run by that great lover of art, Eddie Sheehy. The museum was displaying the works of that new modern painter, John Fernandes. In talking with Eddie I was a little unsteady when I learned that Kenny Cahill was now teaching English at a University. Then I remembered that Kenny and English always did have quite an attraction. On coming out of the museum I noticed that there was an accident across the street so I ran over. Sure enough, Joe Vicino had rammed his new Buick sports car into a dress shop run by Nancy Maloon and Mary Carine. On my last day in New York I was taken on a guided tour of T.W.A. by the Secretary to the vice president of the company, Judith Goyea. I was very glad to meet three of my former classmates, pilots David Knowles, Malcolm Leonard, and their pretty airline hostess, Pauline Delfino.

The following day I boarded my ship and was greeted by Captain Nicholas Ball. I never felt quite at ease when I learned that this supposedly unsinkable ship was designed by architect Wally Bartlett. While being conducted to my cabin I passed by Louise Mei's Beauty Salon where the ship's nurse, Jan Shepardson, was sitting under a dryer. The next day I spent roaming the decks where I happened to meet Mr. and Mrs. John Pomfret. Johnny did very well by marrying the daughter of a multi-millionaire. Also on deck was Arlene Lonergan, purchasing agent for a huge pineapple plant in Hawaii. The entertainment on board was very exciting. In the first lounge, petite Judy Lovely was going through her hilarious comedy act. Judy is now taking the part based on the late Fanny Brice's character of Baby Snooks. On the upper deck Gordon Ennis was giving a talk on taxes. Gordon is the only person alive who can associate taxes with laughter. Later, as I passed by the main lounge I spied telephone operator Nancy Pitman listening in on the party line. Nancy told me that she could write a book on some of the conversations that she has heard. In the late afternoon I was directed by the ship's social director, Dorothy DeVine, to the gym operated by athlete Roy Bolin. Dottie, who was always looking for greener pastures, had to settle for bluer seas. Later I was told that girls' physical education was taught by our own Nancy Ockert.

After a wonderful week aboard ship we finally arrived in enchanting Hawaii. As I walk down the gangplank I see a lovely Hawaiian maiden coming to bid me welcome, so I shall say farewell.

We wish to thank Mr. Payden and all other members of the Yearbook staff for all their time and efforts that went into producing this yearbook.



Senior Reception June 1956

"I Speak for Democracy" is an annual contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Three medals were given in each high school and the top honor was awarded to Michael Martin for the best theme.

Although I speak for democracy I realize I, too, have often taken our precious freedom for granted. I have never had to stand up and fight for it, as have so many of my fellow Americans—in the days of the American Revolution, in the War of 1812, in the bitter conflict between the states or in our century during two world wars and more recently the Korean Conflict. To live without democracy is a condition I have never had to endure. Yet I know that without democracy I would suffocate. My very existence on God's earth would cease. I would no longer be guaranteed the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness that I have always known. It would be impossible to live without the security of being free, free to worship, free to plan my life and career, free to go home at night and read newspapers that speak the truth, watch the programs on television that I like, and when the day ends, to know that I will wake up in a free tomorrow.

To us, all these liberties are as common as everyday living. We think nothing at all about them. What about the other people of the world, some who have never known democracy? To answer this let us refer to the newspapers again. Yes, the newspapers tell us the truth, they tell us about people in other countries dying, just for the right to have an extra piece of bread on their tables; others have perished for the right to kneel in the church of their choice and pray to their Creator.

Thousands of these people flee their imprisoned countries, leaving their homes, their friends, and the life they have become accustomed to and step into a life that only knows uncertainty—all this just to be able to hold their heads up high and say "We are free people." (This is their idea of democracy, an idea that should spread throughout the world to everyone who cannot utter "We are free people.")

Tomorrow morning we the people of America will rise from our sleep as we do every morning. Some of us will work behind a desk, while others will go to work in the factories. Whatever we do, let us look around us. Our children are going to school to get an education that will help them attain a higher standard of living. We are going to a job of our own choice. A whole network of transportation facilities are at work to carry us there. Stores are opening to serve our needs, but most of all we are content. Of course there are our worries and personal complaints about life, but when we think about it, we really are fundamentally happy with our existence. Just as the sun rises shining and bright, every morning, so does America, just for us.

Yes, I speak for democracy but I also speak to all the people of a democracy. We must not treat our heritage too carelessly, let us remember the price we have paid for it. Most of all let us remember these words that made America a Mecca to the freedom-loving people of the world—

"Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.
Send these, the homeless, tempest-tost to me,
I lift my lamp beside the golden door!"

And as that lamp, held aloft by the goddess of liberty, sends forth its beacon from our shore—I speak for democracy—secure and happy in my country, and even hopeful that all peoples in the world share the blessings that are mine.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT DAY

On March 8, a student from every city in Massachusetts will attend Student Government Day at the State House. Weston Bartlett will represent Mansfield and John Pomfret is his alternate. Certain students are chosen for official positions and preside over the meeting. This gives the future citizens an opportunity to understand the function of state government.

The platforms of the candidates helped the students determine who they wanted to represent them.

WESTON BARTLETT—REPRESENTATIVE

I will vote yes on the Junior College at U. of Mass.

I will vote no on the 2% sales tax.

I will vote no on raising the drivers' age to eighteen.

JOHN POMFRET—ALTERNATE

I would advocate a 2% sales tax in the present state income tax.

I would not favor the reducing of voting age to eighteen.

I would like to see licenses for automobiles remain at sixteen. Also, I would like to reduce insurance rates for automobile owners under twenty-five.

GORDON ENNIS

I would favor reducing the gasoline tax.

I think the state should enlarge its conservation program.

I am in favor of having more state parks and beaches.

I think that the automobile rates for owners under twenty-five should be reduced.

MALCOLM LEONARD

I think that the voting age should be lowered to eighteen.

I favor keeping the age for drivers' licenses at sixteen.

MICHAEL MARTIN

I would like Mansfield and other communities to have a "Teenage Canteen."

EDWARD SHEEHY

I would like to start a Junior R.O.T.C. in high school.

Automobile insurance rates for owners under twenty-five should be reduced.

I would like to see a state aid set up for students to further their education.
